Care Net was suggested by Colleen Spahr, Servant Activities Director for the 2017 Convention.

Ysleta is in El Paso Texas, and was suggested by Marguerite Christman, Convention Manager. Ysleta is the largest of the four recipients. Orphan Grain Train in Nebraska will deliver a load of items to Ysleta, bring the truck to the Convention Center in Albuquerque, deliver that load of items to Ysleta and then drive back to Nebraska.

Albuquerque Christian Children, and Care Net are all willing to come and pick up their items.

Lutheran World Relief will have a truck there and will be receiving items from the Servant Events as well as many quilts. It is their preference that the quilts be 60" x 80". Their list of what goes into School Kits, Health Kits and New Baby Kits was different from what we'd put together for the other recipients, so we agreed to leave our lists "as is".

When I have done this previously, I know that you need numbers of how many items each place would like and also a place that is willing to take unlimited numbers of the items so that you aren't wondering what to do with "extras". This set of places has that option, with Ysleta being the place willing to take unlimited numbers of items.
